4. The examiner may lay down further rules with respect to the final date on which a report may be submitted or on which a practical must be completed. These rules must be included in the course overview in the digital study guide.
5. The deadline by which the examiner must have determined his or her assessment of the report will be the deadline of 15 working days stipulated in Article 14.2 of the Master's Programme Regulations for the determination of the results of a written examination. If the result for the report is not a final result and this result will not be processed by the Student Administration, the examiner will inform the student of his or her assessment within 20 working days. Article 14.2 of the Master's Programme Regulations applies mutatis mutandis.

Article 19 Official date of completed exams and practicals

Further rules governing internships and projects

Article 23 Internships

1. Before the internship commences an internship agreement has to be closed between the internship coordinator, the examiner from the relevant subject area, the supervisor at the company or institution where the student is doing his or her internship, and the student.
2. The internship agreement must at least detail the aims of the practical training period.
3. The internship agreement forms the basis for the assessment. The period of training will be assessed in its entirety.
4. The internship coordinator will determine whether the report meets the requirements laid down for the structure and production of the report as well as the student's own assessment of the internship. The company or institution supervisor will also, if necessary, be consulted.

The subject area examiner will assess the subject-related aspect of the report.

The internship coordinator will determine the final mark, also on the basis of the subject area examiner's conclusions and the recommendations made by the company or institution supervisor.

Article 24 Projects

1. In the interdisciplinary design project manual an indication is given of the number of phases into which a project is divided.
2. The first phase must be rounded off with a work plan that has to be approved by the supervisory team after the initial assessment. If the work plan is not approved then a supplement must be added. The project may not be pursued until the work plan has been approved.
3. Roughly mid-way through the second phase there will be a briefing when the group will be expected to present the results and the activities still to be carried out to the supervisory team.
4. At the beginning of the third phase the group will be expected to submit the final draft report.
5. The last phase will be rounded off with the production of the final report and a summary of that same report. Subsequently, during the final assessing, there will be an oral presentation of the final report and an evaluation report will be produced.

6. The student is expected to attend the initial assessment, the briefing and the final assessment and to be present at any other point deemed necessary by the supervisory team. If a student has no valid excuse for being absent at such times then he may be banned from further participating in the project.
7. The work plan and the final report must be assessed by at least two examiners, belonging to at least two of the participating faculties. One of them must be the main supervisor.
8. When it comes to the final assessment, the work aspects definitely taken into consideration will be the following:
 - a. the quality of the project
 - b. how the various sub-topics have been integrated
 - c. written reporting
 - d. oral presentation
 - e. the group process.
9. The group result will be rounded off to a whole number and it will also be the individual final result unless the main supervisor has sound reason to deviate from that in the case of one or more students in the group.
10. If the final result is 6.0 or lower the student will not have passed.
11. The final mark must preferably be given as a rounded off figure or to the closest half point.
12. The group is responsible for ensuring that there is regular contact with the main supervisor.
13. The projects, carried out in one course year, are to be evaluated by one of the concerned professors, who will report to the education director.

Article 25 Official date of internship and project results

1. The official date of the completion of the internship will be the date on which the final report is submitted. The official date of the completion of a project will be the date on which the final report or project is submitted or the date on which the oral final presentation is given.

Further rules governing Master Thesis Project

Article 26 Master Thesis Project

1. Before embarking on the graduation work, the student must complete the form entitled "Request for Graduation Commencement" which is obtainable from the education administration and on the website. On the basis of that form the board of examiners will then check, or otherwise ensure, that the student does indeed comply with the requirements laid down for the final study phase. If everything is in order the student can then report to the graduation coordinator and further compile his master's examination programme.
2. The graduation work is viewed as a practical exercise. The examination committee's chairman is responsible for the internal and external supervision. Both the internal and external supervision are viewed as part of the statutory educational facilities.
3. The "final graduation work assessment" should be understood to be the meeting during which the examination committee's chairman makes known the results of the student's work. The accompanying presentation constitutes part of the final assessment. The result should preferably be made known on the same day. Generally speaking, the final assessment will occur within four weeks (the months of July and August excluded) of the final thesis report having been handed in.
4. The student must actually be registered as such at the time when he or she hands in his or her final thesis report. The date adhered to for the graduation work, which forms the basis for the final assessment, will be that given on the final thesis report.

Article 27 Composition of the assessment committee for Master Thesis Project

A committee will be appointed by or on behalf of the Board of Examiners for the supervision and assessment of Master Thesis Projects. That committee will consist of at least three examiners. The members of the assessment committee will in any event come from two different research groups (Dutch: secties") of the degree programme. Those able to serve on the assessment committee are:

- anyone who is an academic member of staff at Delft University of Technology or at any other Dutch or foreign university,
- external experts as described in Article 5, subsection 2.

Article 28 Working method of the assessment committee

1. As soon as the final study phase begins the examination committee's chairman will indicate to the student which of the members of the examination committee are directly involved in his/her supervision.
2. In consultation with the chairman and his/her immediate supervisor, the student must draw up a work plan which at least describes: the subject, the approach and the duration, and which gives a list of contents.
3. The work plan must be approved by the examination committee after the initial assessment. If it is not approved then supplementary material must be supplied. The work may not be started until the workplan has been approved.
4. The point when the work plan is approved marks the point when the graduation work may begin.
5. Dramatic changes in the work plan must be approved by the examination committee.
6. During the graduation phase there must be at least one interim meeting with the examination committee to gauge the progress being made.
7. Before a presentation date is agreed to for the graduation work the student must present the draft report text to the complete committee and wait for the assessment.
8. After the student has received the examination committee's approval he must then arrange a presentation date.
9. The final assessment and the presentation of the graduation work should be preferably planned for the same day. At least two members of the examination committee, one of whom must be the chairman, ought to be present at the time of the presentation.
10. Members of the examination committee who are unable to be present at the time of assessment should react in writing, possibly by email, to the material received from the student beforehand. The reaction has to be addressed to the chairman.
11. Each time the examination committee evaluates matters, the student must compile an official report and post it or mail it to the committee for approval. If, after a week, no reaction has been received he or she may presume that the agreements detailed in the report have been accepted.
12. When it comes to the task of assessing the graduation work the committee will at least bear in mind the following aspects. Ultimately the final result will, to a large degree, be determined by the work content but the reporting style and presentation will also play a part.
 - a. intrinsic aspects:
 - originality and creativity
 - independence
 - productivity
 - analytical ability
 - synthetic ability
 - approach method
 - and, where relevant,
 - sustainable development technology.
 - b. written presentation
 - structure
 - readability
 - presentation
 - language use.
 - c. oral presentation:
 - structure
 - clarity for a wider audience
 - quality of the audiovisual aids
 - defence.
13. The final mark must preferably be given as a rounded off figure or to the closest half point, although it is acceptable to give one decimal fraction.
14. The chairman will try to arrive at a final mark that is unanimously agreed to by the committee. If any member of the examination committee objects to the final mark then this has to be recorded and justified in writing. If necessary, the final decision will lie with the chairman if there is disagreement about the final mark. The student will not be notified of the procedure that led to the determining of the final mark.
15. The examination committee will ensure that provided the level of the graduation work is high enough the time devoted to the work involved will not be greater than the study load in conjunction with the allocated number of credits.
16. The graduation coordinator or else a member of the examination committee appointed in conjunction with the graduation coordinator remains responsible for ensuring that the relevant Education and Examination Rulings and the Rules and Guidelines laid down by the board of examiners are adhered to. What will be particularly well checked is whether the commencement stipulations are observed, whether the subsequent procedures are followed and if the graduation work is assessed according to uniform norms.

17. The graduation coordinator must keep a record of how long the student has worked on the graduation work. If it has not been completed within a year then the coordinator will ask the student and the examination committee chairman why that is so. If the student does not subsequently progress fast enough the graduation coordinator will notify the board of examiners accordingly.
18. If the board of examiners is involved in the graduation process in the way sketched in subsection 17 it will ask both the examination committee and the student to elucidate matters in writing and to further detail how the graduation process can be completed. The board of examiners subsequently has the right to decide that the existing material will be viewed as the final thesis. The possibility that the student in question will thus fail to successfully round off his or her studies will arise. In such cases students are required to find a new thesis topic and repeat the graduation process.

Article 29 Official date of the Master Thesis Project results

The official date of completion of the Master Thesis Project will be the date on which the oral final presentation is given.

Curriculum components completed elsewhere

Article 30 Inclusion in the degree audit programme

The total number of credits to be submitted for a degree audit and that are derived from components for which an exemption has been granted and from curriculum components completed outside the degree programme may not exceed a total of 40.

Article 31 Provision of information

1. In the event that a student has completed approved components taken outside the degree programme, the student is responsible for ensuring that the authorised agency issues a statement indicating the component in question by name and insofar as applicable by subject code, the associated study load (credits), the results, the date on which the results were earned and the date on which the statement was issued.
2. In the case of components taken abroad, the student must request the Board of Examiners to determine the scope in credits and the result.

Pass/fail rules

Article 32 Pass/fail rules governing Master's degree audit

1. Students may be said to have gained their Master's degree when they have met the following requirements:
 - if the student in question has been admitted to the programme,
 - once the marks list is complete, that is to say, when a mark has been given for each subject, the work has been graded as a pass or when the student has been exempted,
 - once the project and graduation work and, if relevant, the internship, have been completed with a mark no lower than 6.0,
 - when none of the marks are below 6.
2. The method of assessment will be transparent so that the student can ascertain how the result was reached.
3. In special cases the Board of Examiners may deviate from the provisions of subsection 1. It will stipulate additional requirements if necessary.

Conferring the predicate 'with distinction'

Article 33 The designation 'with distinction' for Master's degree audits

1. A student can receive the designation 'with distinction' for the Master's degree audit if the Board of Examiners decides to grant this distinction and the following requirements have been met:
 - a. the weighted average of the results of the subjects not including the Master Thesis Project is at least 8.0; passes (v) and exemptions (vr) will not be taken into consideration;
 - b. the number of credits for the subjects for which a pass (v) has been earned or for which an exemption (vr) has been granted may not exceed 20 credits in total.
 - c. The result for the Master Thesis Project is at least 8.5

- d. The actual registration period in the programme does not exceed 30 months
2. In special cases the Board of Examiners may decide to grant the designation "with distinction" to a student who does not meet the requirements referred to in subsection 1 if the student in question has shown exceptional skills in the degree programme in question.

Degree certificates and results achieved

Article 34 Degree certificate, transcript and supplement

1. A degree certificate will be issued by or on behalf of the Board of Examiners as evidence that the degree audit has been completed.
2. The degree certificate for a Master's degree audit will be signed by the chairman of the examination committee on behalf of the Board of Examiners.

A supplement in English will be provided when the degree certificate is issued, which will in any event indicate the results achieved.

Article 35 Statement of results achieved

1. A student who has successfully taken one or more exams and to whom a degree certificate within the meaning of Article 34 cannot be issued when he/she leaves the university will receive a statement from the Board of Examiners upon request. That statement will indicate the student's personal data, subject code(s), subject name(s), number of credits, the result(s) and the date(s) on which the result(s) was/were earned.
2. A statement as referred to in subsection 1 must be requested from the Student Administration.

Appeal and final provisions

Article 36 Appeals against decisions made by the Board of Examiners

An appeal may be brought against a decision made by the Board of Examiners and/or an examiner within a period of four weeks after the person in question has been notified of the decision. Appeals may be brought before the Examination Appeals Board for the exams referred to in Article 7.60 of the Higher Education and Research Act. The Board of Examiners will refer to this possibility of appeal in its decision.

Article 37 Amendments to the Rules and Guidelines of the Board of Examiners

No amendments may be made to these Rules and Guidelines that apply to the current academic year unless the students' interests remain reasonably unaffected.

Article 38 Unexpected circumstances

Insofar as these Rules and Guidelines do not provide for specific circumstances, the Board of Examiners will make a decision that is in line with these Rules and Guidelines to every extent possible.
