

Privacy Policy

Please refer to the TU Delft privacy statement.

TU Delft processes, manages and protects your personal data with the utmost care and therewith complies with the requirements imposed on us by the Personal Data Protection Act. For more information you can visit the website of The Dutch Data Protection Authority.

1. Every student is entitled to view his personal file. The data in it is otherwise only accessible to TU delft employees and subcontractors who require it by virtue of their position.
2. Students are entitled to ask that their personal data be corrected, added to, or deleted if it is factually incorrect or incomplete. This is also possible in the event that it does not serve the purpose for which it is recorded, or if it has been recorded in breach of the law.
3. Personal registration data will only be given to a third party if this is relevant to the purpose of the registration, if it is a legal requirement, or if the owner of the data has given their permission. The third party is required to handle your personal information with care.
4. Students should give their permission for information other than that relating to his studies to be sent to his email address. This includes surveys organized by TU Delft on the quality of teaching. It is emphasized that non-personal email messages, such as requests to take part in graduation research projects, may not be sent without the permission of the student.

Please know, that we might review and make changes to the privacy policy. When any changes are made to the privacy policy, we will notify you by sending an email notification. Changes which will be made are effective immediately upon posting on the website. Be sure to return to this page periodically to ensure familiarity with the most current version of this Privacy Policy. TU Delft Online Learning is part of www.tudelft.nl.
